Bountiful City Recycling Opinion Poll

For years Bountiful City has had a voluntary program of recycling utilizing containers at the recycling center at 950 South and 200 West, adjacent to the city's maintenance facility. Additional recycling bins are located at schools and businesses. There is no cost to use these recycling facilities. For citizens who desire to have curbside recycling, Mountain West Recycling provides bi-weekly (twice a month) service for $10/month.

Recently, a group of concerned citizens has asked the City Council to consider implementing a mandatory curbside recycling program where all households that currently have curbside refuse collections would receive another container into which they could put recyclable materials. The container would be picked up every other week, and the materials would be taken to a recycling center where they would be sorted for shipment to a recycling plant. The cost of this service would be $3.50-$4.00 per month ($40-$50 per year), and would be charged to the citizens whether or not they use the service. Such a recycling program would significantly increase the amount of materials recycled from Bountiful, if citizens separate their refuse and put their recyclable materials in the new container.

The City Council would like to know how you feel about this program. Please mark one of the boxes below, and return it with your utility bill payment. Results of this survey will appear in the next city newsletter.

I am in favor of a city-wide mandatory curbside recycling program and am willing to pay $40-$50 per year for this service.

I am satisfied with the current recycling opportunities and do not want to pay $40-$50 per year for a curbside recycling program.

Flood Hazard Information

This Year, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) issued a new map that shows the areas expected to be affected by flooding in the event of a 100- or 500-year storm. This map, known as the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM), is used to determine the flood risks for properties applying for Federal Flood Insurance. Bountiful City is divided into specific flood zones depending on the type and severity of flooding risk. These zone classifications range from the most common rating, Zone X (areas of minimal flood risk), to Zone A (usually located along creeks which are areas where flooding is expected from a 100-year storm). If residents would like to find out which flood zone a property is located in or learn the definition of a flood zone, the Bountiful City Engineering Department can answer questions about specific properties.

Bountiful City participates in the National Flood Insurance Program's Community Rating System, which allows flood insurance policyholders to receive discounts on their policies as a result of voluntary activities Bountiful City has implemented. These activities include restricting and regulating dumping in any stream channel. Those having questions may come to the City Engineer's office at City Hall, 790 South 100 East, or call 298-6125 between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. "FLOODS, What You Should Know when Living in Utah," a free booklet produced by the Utah Floodplain and Stormwater Management Association, is also available at Bountiful City Hall and the Davis County Library South Branch at 725 South Main Street in Bountiful.

Bountiful City to Sell Doris Kearns Goodwin Tickets

Pulitzer Prize-winning author Doris Kearns Goodwin will be speaking on March 13, 2008 as part of Davis Reads, a one-book/one-community program in Davis County.

The 2007-08 theme for Davis Reads is "Everyone's Hero: When Words Take Flight, Heroes are Born". Doris Kearns Goodwin's most recent book, Team of Rivals: the Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln, clearly illustrates the importance and challenges of heroes. The study of heroes is an integral part of character education for all ages.

Ms. Goodwin will speak at 7:30 p.m. at the Northridge High School auditorium. This event is open to the public and tickets will sell for $20 each. Tickets will go on sale on Tuesday, January 22, 2008, at the Bountiful City Offices, 790 South 100 East.

This visit by Doris Kearns Goodwin is made possible by donations from Intermountain Power Agency on behalf of Kaysville City and Bountiful City. Other sponsors are Wells Fargo Bank, Dick's Market, Qwest, Horizon Credit Union, Davis School District through the Davis Education Foundation, the Davis County Library, and the Utah Humanities Council.

Doris Kearns Goodwin will also speak at 5:30 p.m. at a dinner at the Davis Conference Center in Layton. The dinner is $60 and includes attendance at the 7:30 p.m. presentation at Northridge High School. Tickets for the dinner will be available online only beginning January 22, 2008 at noon at the Davis School District website: <http://www.davis.k12.ut.us>.

Please Do Not Blow Snow Into The Street

Do not blow or shovel snow off your driveways and sidewalks into the street.

When residents shovel or blow the snow from their sidewalks and driveways into the street it defeats the efforts of the City snowplows. Residents usually get to their driveways and sidewalks after the plows have cleared the street. Snow blown or shoveled into the street becomes a danger to motorists who believe the road is clear and are not watching for patches of slush and ice thrown into the street. Most driveways and sidewalks can be safely cleared without using the street.

Please Park Off The Street

Do not park on the street during a snow storm or between the hours of 2:00 a.m. and 6:00 a.m. from November to March.

Plowing roads is a difficult task when roads are clear. Add vehicles to an icy, steep, narrow street and it is almost impossible. Vehicles parked on the street may or may not be seen by a snowplow driver during a heavy winter storm. If your vehicle is off the street the City can efficiently and safely remove the snow. Residents avoid possible citation and towing when vehicles are parked correctly.
